FINANCIAL REPORT

1. Bob Landram reported $17307.16
2. Calendars – 31 sold for $155
3. Dan's books – no sales
4. Cemetery books – no sales
5. Coloring books – no sales

GUEST SPEAKER

Julie Wiegand, a landscape artist, presented five of her oil paintings of Chesterfield scenes. These included: a red brick barn across from Spirit of St. Louis Airport, a barn (now gone) across from the Rombach farm, the Ascension little church, farm outbuildings (now gone) off Wild Horse Creek Road, and Graylor's house in the bottoms. She offered to lease the paintings to a public institution or to sell them to individuals. Prices begin at $750.

OLD BUSINESS

1. Book Committee will meet on March 27 at 7:30 p.m. at Joan Schacht's house.
2. Current Historical Items – Joan reminded everyone to bring Chesterfield current events clippings, pictures, etc. to each meeting.
 - a) Chris suggested taking pictures of the construction at Friendship Village
 - b) Dan reported that Terry Wunderlich donated a box of clippings and pictures
3. Flood sign – Joan contacted the Smokehouse, Doubletree, Petropolis, and Don Wiegand. Only the Doubletree is not interested in a sign. The owner of the Smokehouse suggested a standard sign for all historical markers.
 - a) Jane will request that money left from the preservation of the Minna Waldmann house be used for the purchase of the signs.
 - b) Dan will check with Lauren Strutman and old minutes for the name of the company which made the Old Chesterfield marker.

4. Artifacts Committee – no report
5. Jane Durrell reported that Chris and Bob Landram, Dan Rothwell, Suzie Marx, Lauren Strutman and Brian Calderwood attended the Council Meeting which recognized Terry Wunderlich's years of volunteer services.

NEW BUSINESS

Arland Stemme suggested having an occasional speaker at the monthly meetings. She will contact Mr. Rombach. Jesse Francis and Lauren Strutman were suggested as well as speakers on local church history.

Meeting adjourned at 8:19 p. m.

The next meeting will be April 9, 2008 at 7:30 p. m. at City Hall.
