Many changes have taken place and are still in process within our community.

It is hard to imagine that within the immediate past six months, we have experienced the retirement of our City Administrator of almost 28 years, the election of half of our City Council, and appointment of a new Interim City Attorney. We are fortunate that we have such experienced and professional employees that are a stabilizing force as we navigate through so many changes at once.

The names of all our City Council members appear immediately to the left of this column, and we congratulate and welcome Chris Graville as our newly appointed Interim City Attorney. Additionally, on May 2 City Council approved contracts naming Director of Public Services, Mike Geisel, and Police Chief, Ray Johnson, as co-interim City Administrators for a period up to 16 weeks. At this time, it appears that a strength assessment of an internal candidate and/or a full national search will be conducted for a new permanent city administrator.

Pain Killer Medication Abuse and Heroin Addiction

I recently attended a town hall meeting sponsored by St. Louis County and the Parkway School District and was surprised and shocked to learn that the two prevalent zip codes within our city unfortunately have a very high incidence per population of youth death due to overdose of either pain killer medication or heroin. It seems that the relative ease of access to pain medication leads to abuse of these medications and/or use of heroin. I only mention this as an awareness item to encourage education and prevention of tragic outcomes. Sources of additional information are Alliance for Healthy Communities, ahc-Stl.org and monetwork.org.

Sales Tax Pool Reform Bills

I'm very happy to report that Senate Bill 867 passed the Missouri Legislature on May 12 which allows Chesterfield and other sales tax "pool cities" to retain 50% of their sales tax earnings. For perspective, when looking at last year's sales tax numbers, that would have meant an additional $236,666 the City would have retained. It also ensures that cities on the receiving end of the pooled sales taxes are kept whole by retaining at least the amount of what they received in 2014. The Bill now awaits Governor Nixon's signature and, if signed, would go into effect on January 1, 2017.

Many of you know that I and previous Mayors have spent countless hours working on this important change to distribute the sales taxes more fairly that we and other pool cities with a strong retail base generate, to the benefit of the entire region. I would like extend my appreciation to Representative Mike Leara and Representative Sue Allen who sponsored and championed the House Bill 1561 for this legislation. Also, I would like to express specific appreciation to Senator Dave Schatz and Senator Eric Schmitt who provided us with a fair and thorough opportunity to present our case to his Senate Committee and helped support advancement of our very important issue to the Senate floor debate.

There really is a lot of new development going on within Chesterfield. We have a few new subdivisions, expansion of existing and development of new assisted living facilities, luxury multi-family living complexes, corporate headquarters, St. Luke's Hospital expansion, Monsanto's Research & Development facility expansion, and plans for three new hotels in the Valley, as well as other projects. However, I believe the pride and joy and real value of our city is in its neighborhoods and residential property.

As a reminder, there are two free concert series this summer at the Chesterfield Amphitheater. On Thursday nights at 6:30 p.m., there will be five Art & Orchestra concerts and on Saturday nights at 7:30 p.m., there will be six Sounds of Summer Concerts. I hope to see you out and about in or on one of our many parks and trails.

Jane Durrell receives Senior Service Award for contributions in the community

Missouri Lt. Governor Kinder recently honored former Councilmember and 2013 Chesterfield Citizen of the Year Jane Durrell as one of 34 winners of the 2016 Lieutenant Governor's Senior Service Award at a ceremony in the House Lounge of the Missouri Capitol in Jefferson City. As the official Senior Advocate for Missouri, Kinder instituted the awards in 2005 to recognize and celebrate the contributions seniors make in their communities through volunteerism. Since then, more than 300 seniors have won the award.

Mrs. Durrell has volunteered for many years for the City of Chesterfield, serving as a member of the City Council for nine years. She also served on the City's Planning and Public Works and Finance and Administration committees. Durrell was nominated for the award by Missouri Rep. Sue Allen of Town and Country. "Her commitment to the City of Chesterfield and its citizens is admirable and highly evident," said Allen in her nomination. "Many describe her as an energizing force in her community and as a source of inspiration for all." Kinder also highlighted Durrell's commitment to historic preservation. "Jane champions historic preservation, serving on the City's Historical and Landmark Preservation Commission, and she edited and helped to write the historical book, 'Chesterfield: From Untamed Wilderness to Thriving Municipality,'" he said.

Patriotic music will play during the fireworks this year.

Circus Kaput coming to 4th of July celebration; Mclovin starts the party on the Main Stage at 7 p.m.

New this year, the Commerce Bank Kid's Zone will have Circus Kaput, a two-hour circus show featuring unicycling, juggling, magic, aerial acts, stiltwalker, teeterboard, fire breathing, acrobatics, audience participation and much more. The Kid's Zone will also have 15 carnival games including putt-putt challenges, a frog hop and ring toss, plus two bubble machines! Inflatable bounce houses, slides and an obstacle course will keep the kids entertained before the fireworks show. Kid's Zone will be open from 6:30-9 p.m.

Great local food vendors will feature a variety of delicious food that includes Indian, Italian and Mexican cuisine, plus a casual menu of grilled cheese sandwiches, pizza, hamburgers, hot dogs and kettle corn. Patrons are also invited to bring their own food and beverages. The following items will not be permitted at the event: glass bottles, aerosol cans, laser pens/pointers, weapons of any kind, illegal substances, barbeque grills, tents, fireworks, or pets (except for service animals).

Attendees are encouraged to bring their own lawn chairs or other seating for their comfort and ease of viewing. The fireworks display will begin at promptly 9:30 p.m. Parking is provided on the lots surrounding Chesterfield Mall, with handicap parking available. Shuttle buses will circle Chesterfield Mall Drive to transport visitors to the viewing area, if needed. Shuttle buses equipped to handle wheelchairs will also be available. Motorized vehicles of any kind are not allowed in the viewing area.

Fireworks Ordinance

A Chesterfield ordinance has long prohibited individuals from either selling or discharging fireworks, except by permit. Fireworks can be dangerous at times and can cause both personal injury and property damage. It is unlawful for any person to manufacture, sell, offer for sale, ship or cause to be shipped into Chesterfield, any item of fireworks. This section applies to nonresidents as well as residents of the City. It is also against the law for any person to explode, ignite or discharge any articles of fireworks within the city limits.

Owen's work with Boy Scouts has helped 41 young men achieve highest rank

Mr. Owen was nominated by Daniel Koschoff who acknowledged his many years of dedication to developing young leaders through Boy Scouting. Mr. Owen has been a Scoutmaster of Troop 597 for 16 years, a role in which most only serve for three. He has helped 41 young men to earn the highest rank in scouting of Eagle Scout. Only three in 100 boys who enter Scouting ever achieve this rank. "The Eagle Scouts who Tom has mentored and continues to inspire, have grown up to be teachers, seminarians, and business leaders," said Mr. Koschoff. "Because of this, Tom has not only affected the lives of these young men, but also the lives these young men impact." Many have returned to scouting to become adult leaders for the next generation.

Due to the requirement of the Boy Scouts to learn about the importance of citizenship and to actively participate in their communities, Mr. Owen has involved them in countless service projects in the community, including Chesterfield Earth Day recycling events, clean up events at Faust Park and along area roadways, singing carols to residents of Delmar Gardens and many other volunteering events.

Mr. Owen has lived in Chesterfield since 1996 and served as a trustee in the Baxter Lakes Subdivision from 2002-2011. He and his wife have three children and are members of Ascension Parish, the chartering organization for Boy Scout Troop 597.

Citizen of the Year recipients are recognized for their benefit to the City of Chesterfield through volunteerism, working on community projects, and overall civic contributions to the community. A Citizens Selection Committee comprised of citizen committee and community volunteers presented their recommendation to the City Council following their review of several nominations.

Eagles tribute band to headline annual Backstoppalooza Benefit Concert

Eagles tribute band, 7 Bridges, will headline the annual Backstoppalooza fundraiser concert this year on Saturday, October 1 at the Chesterfield Amphitheater. ## Emerald Ash Borer confirmed in parts of Chesterfield

The Emerald Ash Borer (EAB) is an exotic wood boring beetle that has been establishing itself throughout the Midwest. EAB was confirmed to be in West St. Louis County last year, and has recently been confirmed in parts of Chesterfield. Emerald Ash Borer kills Ash trees by damaging the sapwood and preventing fluid transport throughout the tree. Once infested, trees usually die within 3-5 years. Ash trees are the only species at risk from this insect, but once the insect is established it will kill 100% of the Ash population.

The City of Chesterfield has long been aware that there is a large population of Ash trees in public right-of-way (typically the area between the sidewalk and street). The City has implemented a program to systematically remove all of the City's public Ash trees within the next seven years. You may have seen us in your neighborhood already, removing Ash trees which are dead, declining, or showing evidence of EAB infestation. Once those trees are removed, we will strategically schedule subsequent removals in order to lessen the immediate impacts on individual neighborhoods. Please be patient as we work through this devastating event.

If a street tree in front of your home has been scheduled for removal, you will be notified by letter before the removal takes place. A letter will explain the removal process and will provide information about the City's Street Tree Planting Program. If you have a declining Ash tree in City's right-of-way adjacent to your home that you would like to be considered for removal, please call us at 636.537.4000 or fill out a work request at chesterfield.mo.us/report-a-problem.html. The Residential Street Tree Planting program is available to assist homeowners who would like to plant a replacement tree within the City's right-of-way. There is a $100.00 fee per tree if you would like to participate in the planting program. Trees must be of an approved species to ensure the tree can thrive and ultimately help improve the overall health of our Urban Forest. Information and materials for this program can be found at chesterfield.mo.us/residential-street-tree.html.

New construction projects in full bloom

With the spring season well on its way, a new construction season has begun. One of the more visible projects along the I-64 corridor includes the expansion of the existing Delmar Gardens Office Complex with the addition of a third office building. The building will add approximately 127,000 square feet of office space in a five-story building with an estimated project cost of $40.5 million. Rabo Agrifinance has been announced as the major tenant for this building, relocating their headquarters from Creve Coeur to Chesterfield. Rabo Agrifinance is part of a global financial services provider, Rabobank Group, based in the Netherlands. Their current headquarters offers approximately 219 existing jobs with plans for adding 35 additional jobs through 2019.

The Kraus Farm Office Center (Opus I&II) is a new construction project located at the northwest intersection of Timberlake Manor Parkway and North Outer 40 Road approximately half of a mile east of the new Delmar Gardens office building. This four-story building will bring another approximately 150,000 square feet of office space and will be the new home to Bunge North America's headquarters. Bunge North America is a global agribusiness and food company that will add 160 new jobs to the existing 550 jobs in their new headquarters in Chesterfield. These two new projects will help to fill the remaining vacant land along the North Outer 40 Road Office Corridor between Timberlake Manor and Chesterfield Parkway East.

Further west in the Valley on I-64, construction has also begun on the new Courtyard by Marriot Hotel, which will be directly west of the existing Hampton Inn & Suites. This will be the first new hotel in Chesterfield since the completion of the Hyatt Place Hotel in 2013. The Courtyard will offer 112 guest rooms in a four-story building. This will be a great addition to the Valley and a compliment to all of the City's tourist attractions including the Chesterfield Valley Athletic Complex.

New Business to Take Flight at the Old Chesterfield Cine Site

The now-vacant former Chesterfield Cine site, located north of Chesterfield Mall, is currently under review for an exciting new business in the Chesterfield Village area. This site is proposed for redevelopment as an indoor skydiving facility that will be operated by Texas-based company, iFly. This potential new business will bring a new and innovative recreational opportunity to Chesterfield that will be unique to the region.

The proposed indoor skydiving facility will be located between I-64 and Chesterfield Mall.

There are three plot sizes in the new Chesterfield Parkway Community Garden.

Sachs Properties generously donates land for new community garden

The Chesterfield Parks, Recreation & Arts maintenance crew has completed the new Chesterfield Parkway Community Garden, located on Chesterfield Parkway just west of the Bishop's Post restaurant. The garden was made possible by the generous land donation from Sachs Properties, which is on loan until the property is sold. In the event of a sale, the plot holders will be notified in a timely manner and will be able to complete the growing season before vacating.

The garden area is fenced in with a locked gate and has three various plot sizes; 4'x8', 8'x8' and 8'x16'. The plots are in the ground, not in raised beds and water is available onsite. Both the Chesterfield Parkway Community Garden and the Eberwein Park Community Garden are at capacity, however, if you are interested in a plot at either park, please call 636.812.9500 to place your name on the waiting list of the community garden of your choice. You will be notified by email from the Parks, Recreation & Arts Division if the plot becomes available. The application and payment must be received before the plot can be reserved in your name.

According to a recent study*, children who regularly spend unstructured time outside play more creatively, have lower stress levels, have more active imaginations, become fitter and leaner, develop stronger immune systems, experience fewer symptoms of ADD and ADHD and have greater respect for themselves, others and the environment. So if you are looking for something free to do this summer, bring the kids to the Central Park to play on the newly renovated playground, or take an adventurous walk on the streamwalks, or stroll along the artwalk that showcases six public sculptures! And of course, the Chesterfield Family Aquatic Center has swim lessons and a Dive-In Movie for families that are looking to beat the heat!

SPOTLIGHT ON ART

"Large Bather III" is a life-size bronze sculpture created by Emilio Greco. Greco was an Italian sculptor of bronze and marble figurative works, primarily female nudes and portraits. In their refined, elongated forms and assertive balance, his sculpted figures reflect the Mannerist tradition in Italian art.

The "Large Bather III" is located near the Chesterfield Family Aquatic Center entrance.

Five new trees planted at Millennium Heritage Grove on Missouri Arbor Day

On April 1, Mayor Bob Nation; City Arborist Mindy Mohrman; and Parks, Recreation & Arts Director Tom McCarthy joined the Chesterfield Citizens Committee for the Environment (CCE) in planting five native trees at the Millennium Green Heritage Grove located within the Chesterfield Valley Athletic Complex. The Grove was originally established in 2000, but many of the trees planted did not survive, so this was a reforestation effort. The CCE also replaced the original marker that had been damaged and rededicated the Grove with a special ceremony.

Make summer lawn maintenance easy...and green by grasscycling!

With spring behind us and the summer months approaching, a common yard chore is mowing the grass. Many residents bag the grass clippings, but there is a better option...grasscycling! Grasscycling is simply leaving your grass clippings on the lawn. It is an easy and it saves homeowners the time and energy it takes to bag clippings.

Grassclippings are a large portion of the waste stream so grasscycling will help reduce the amount of waste going to the landfill. When properly clipped, grass clippings decompose quickly and release nutrients back into the soil and greatly reduces the need for fertilizer because grass clippings return nitrogen to the soil.

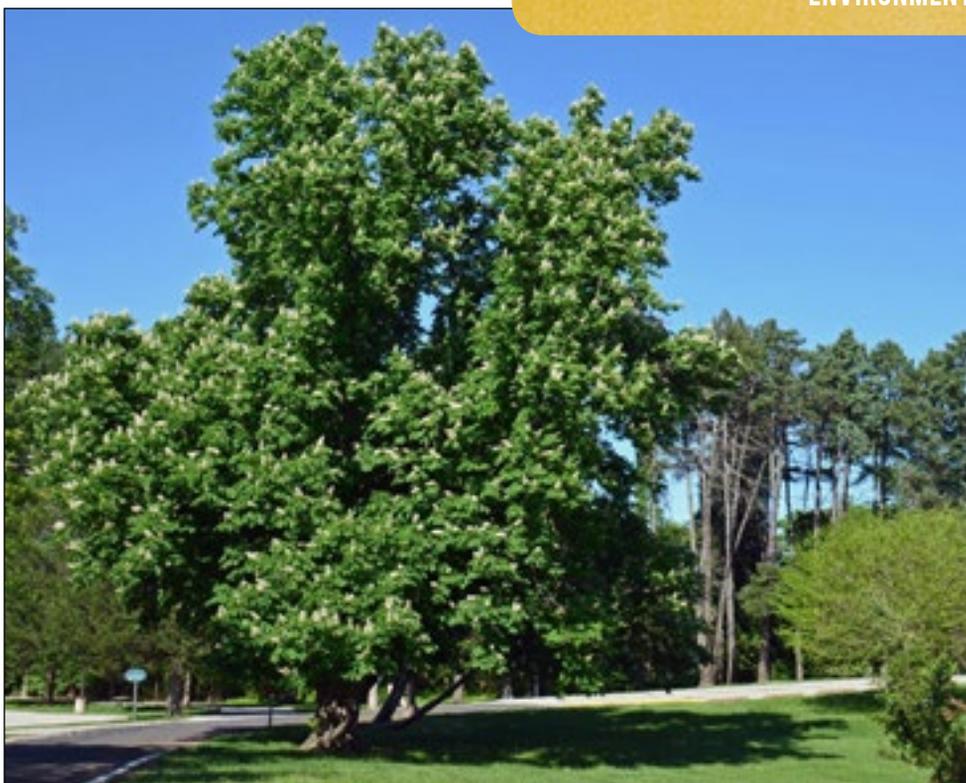

Lawns also benefit from grasscycling. Not only will it create a healthier looking lawn if it is mowed, watered, and fertilized properly, the lawn WILL be healthier. Proper mowing is the key to grasscycling. Grass should be dry and the mower blades sharp. During a "wet season" or at a time your grass cannot be mowed as frequently as desired, you might have an excess of clippings. This is an excellent opportunity to put your clippings in a backyard compost pile.

Frequent mowing at a low cutting height deprives the root system of nutrients and moisture. Longer grass blades create more shade, providing the soil protection from the sun. By mowing at a raised height, you reduce stress that can retard root growth. Water in the early morning, if possible but do not over-water. Too much water will cause your lawn to develop shallow root systems. Water less frequently, but deeper.

This information was provided by recycleworks.org and the Citizens for the Environment Committee (CCE).

Oldest tree recorded on Centennial Tree Roster located in Faust Park

The Citizens Committee for the Environment (CCE) honored all families and tree caretakers who submitted information on old trees to City Hall last year. Each tree listed on the 2016 Centennial Tree Roster was verified as being at least 100 years old. Volunteers measured and identified trees using Forestry Standards and the Missouri Department of Conservation guidelines in order to qualify. Some of the trees came from the multi-faceted Millennium Green Partnership project of the CCE in 2000. The oldest tree reported to us is an American Horsechestnut located in Faust Park. Using estimating guidelines, it was determined to be approximately 330+ years old! Those entrusted with taking care of these trees received a Centennial Tree Certificate from the City.

Chesterfield is NWF certified for 11th consecutive year

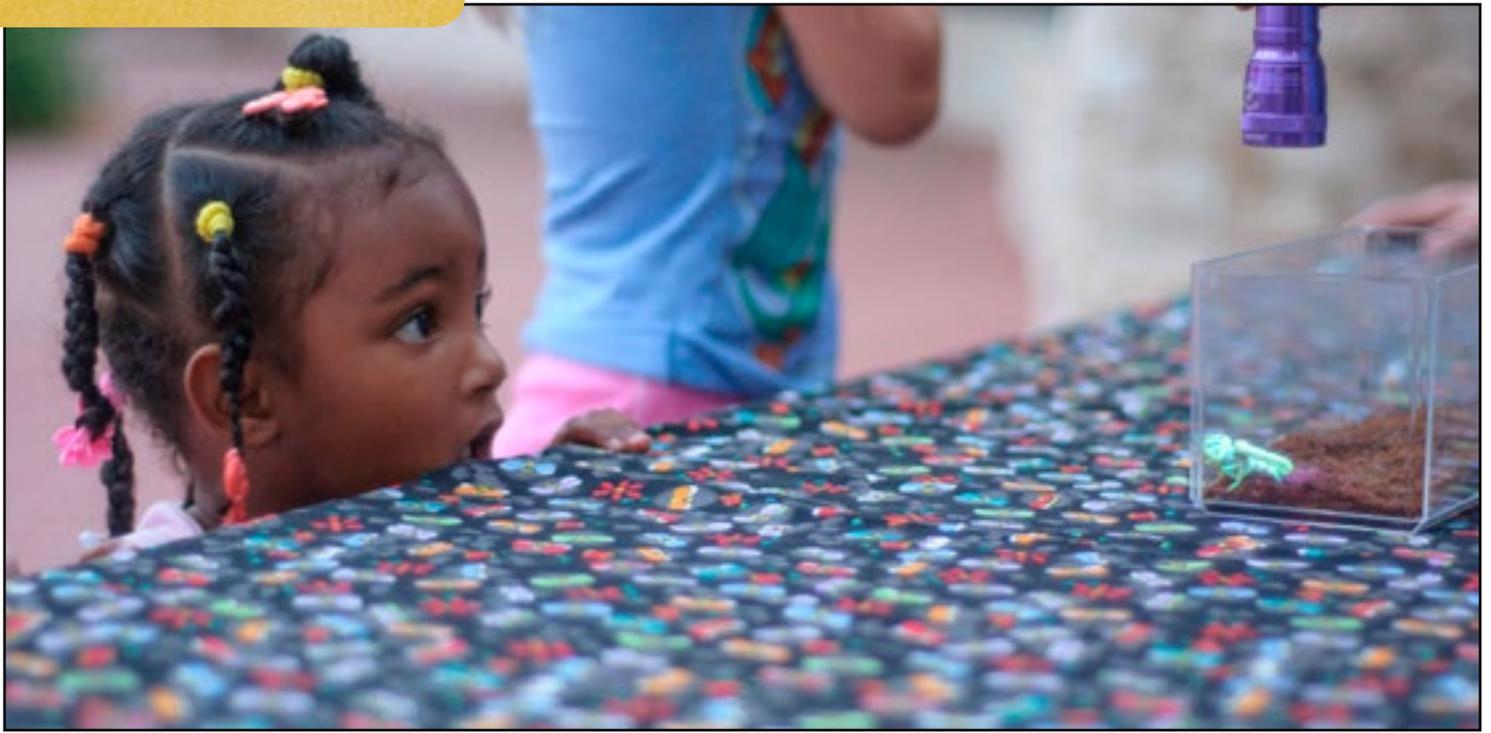

Since Spring of 2005, the City has received its Certified Community Wildlife Habitat Status of Exceptional Merit from the National Wildlife Federation (NWF). CCE and the entire community has successfully kept the community wildlife habitat growing and evolving. CCE has added NWF Certified Habitat Gardens, provided sustainable gardening education and has held events focused on improving the environment throughout the previous year. For those efforts, the community continues to be recertified and as a NWF Certified Community.

Chesterfield is Missouri's first and the country's ninth NWF Certified Community. There are approximately 150 NWF Certified Communities throughout the U.S. in approximately 25 states.

Choose paper, not plastic. Or better yet-choose reusable!

Plastic bags that are not properly disposed of or recycled can find their way into streams and waterways and eventually end up in the ocean, where they can take up to 1,000 years to breakdown. This is one of the reasons why disposing of plastic bags is of the utmost importance. They can create harmful debris and unsightly litter. Whales, birds, seals, and turtles die each year after becoming entangled with bags or mistaking them for food.

Plastic bags can be recycled into plastic lumber, planters for gardening, playground equipment, pipes, new plastic bags and other products. Republic Services will not accept plastic bags in the curbside bin due to the tangled mess plastic bags cause in their machinery. If you do choose plastic, please recycle them at your local grocery store or other places such as Target and Walmart. Better yet, choose reusable bags when shopping.

RESIDENT SPOTLIGHT

By Libbey Tucker

The Secret to Aging Well

On a sunny, but cool, spring day you might find some residents of Friendship Village taking a walk, playing cards, or gardening, but Lee Basso and 31 of his neighbors are playing a serious game of horseshoes. Basso has been arranging a horseshoe tournament for eight years, since he moved there, although he never played one game of horseshoes until he was 70 years old. Sports and being active have always been a big part of Basso's life. He played basketball and baseball in college and was even in a semi-pro baseball team for one season. He also coached and managed American Legion and Khoury League baseball for 15 years each. Two of his players even went on to the big leagues and Basso himself is in the Greater St. Louis Amateur Baseball Hall of Fame. Basso was still a batting practice coach at 65 years old. "That's why I can throw a horse shoe so good," he says. "And because someone taught me when I was young, how to throw it with a three-quarter turn."

Lee Basso has arranged horseshoe tournaments for Friendship Village for many years. His name is the only one on the trophy.

After serving in the Navy during World War II, Basso graduated with an MBA from the University of Southern California in 1944. Later he retired as Director of Auditing after 29 years with McDonnell Douglas and went on to consult privately. When he and his wife Betty moved to Friendship Village in 2008, he noticed there were lots of activities, but no outside sports and nothing competitive. The maintenance crews at Friendship Village helped him install the horseshoe courts and staff encouraged him to organize the program. Since then, he's been arranging two tournaments annually, with two brackets so women can play too. He taught people how to play, recruited players, and solicited businesses for prizes.

This past May was the last tournament Basso will manage, however. You see, Lee is now 94, and while he is as spry and sharp as someone half his age, his precious wife of 69 years, Betty, needs his full attention to care for her. This tournament was no different than the previous ones – Basso won again, throwing 9 ringers. Having played 55 games in a row without a defeat, "They still can't be the old guy," he says wryly. "That's the battle cry during the tournament – Beat the Old Guy!" But they never do.

Sylvester Johnson: a hard worker and great story teller

By Ann Chrissos

Chesterfield Historic & Landmarks Preservation Committee

Sylvester Johnson (b. 22 Mar 1870, d. 30 May 1955) was raised in Valley Park, Missouri. He married Ophelia Buckner (b. Apr 1880, d. 30 Oct 1964) in 1897 and they had 17 children. In 1903, Johnson purchased some acreage at 16918 Wild Horse Creek Road in a public auction for $50.00. Since the land was mostly woods, he cut and cleared the trees, built a two room house and moved his family to Chesterfield. Two of his children died in infancy, but the others grew up on the Wild Horse Creek property. Sylvester and Ophelia named their children Dorsey, Nelson, Arizona, Vent, Florine, Henry, Rollo, Laurabell, Wesley, Rachel, Milton, Birdie, Marie, Robert and Lucille.

*Ophelia and Sylvester Johnson, May 1954.

To support his large family, Johnson worked as a general farmer, carpenter and as a night watchman at Andy Kroeger's store. The family also shopped at Kroeger's store as well as at Rinkel's Market, Glaser Merchandise and Burkhardt's store and they attended the First Baptist Church of Chesterfield. In 1905, Johnson sold a piece of his property on the east side of his house to Mary Hughes, who planned to build the first school in Chesterfield for African-American students. Besides the Johnson's, there were six other African American families in the area which included the families of: Buckley White, Nelson Hubbard, Lizzie Taylor, Katie Jackson, George Nassey and Mary Hughes. Consequently, Mary had no difficulty in getting the required 15 students enrolled in order to open her school.

When Sylvester's son Dorsey was interviewed in 1993, he recalled his father telling stories about Jesse and Frank James hiding in a cave near Wild Horse Creek Road and Griffith Lane. (It is well known that the James Gang used Missouri caves as hide-outs from the law). He also claimed that his father had talked to Jesse James and grew up with Frank James in Valley Park. Although these would have been exciting stories for his children, research does not confirm them. Jesse James was killed in St. Joseph, Missouri on April 3, 1882, twenty-one years before Sylvester moved to Chesterfield. Frank and Jesse James were born and raised in Clay County, Missouri. However Ancestry.com shows that a different Frank James lived in Valley Park at the same time that Sylvester lived there. Although Frank James, the outlaw, did live and work in St. Louis from 1894 to 1904, he was not wanted by the law at that time and he would not have needed to hide out in a cave. Additionally, there was no evidence that Frank James was ever in the Chesterfield or Valley Park areas. By the time Sylvester Johnson moved to Chesterfield, Frank had returned to western Missouri. Apparently, Sylvester Johnson was not only a hard worker and good provider for his family, but he was also a very imaginative story teller.

Sylvester Johnson died in Clayton, Missouri and is buried in Greenwood Cemetery in Hillsdale, Missouri. His wife Ophelia died in Manchester, Missouri and is buried with her husband.
