CITY SCHEDULES ELECTION— Parks and Recreation November 2

Mayor John Nations recently announced that City Council has voted unanimously to place a proposal for a one-half cent sales tax, for "parks and recreation," on the November 2 election ballot. (See "Letter from the Mayor" in this Newsletter)

This proposal, if approved by a majority of Chesterfield voters, will establish a dedicated funding source, for the operation/maintenance of all parks and recreation facilities, as well as the beautification areas, located adjacent to City, County and State rights-of-way.

In addition, "Proposition P" will provide funding for the construction of additional improvements to the Chesterfield Valley Athletic Complex and the Family Aquatic Park, located within Chesterfield's Central Park, and the purchase of additional land for parks and recreational purposes.

PLEASE VOTE!

From the Mayor

Proposition P~ November 2004

In the previous issue of the Citizen Newsletter in June, I wrote to you about the status of Parks and Recreation facilities and programs as well as provided some thoughts on current efforts to meet the rising demand for such services. It is clear from the many telephone calls, e-mails, and inquiries I received in response to that column that there is a strong interest in these issues from all parts of our community. MANY THANKS to all of you who have shared your thoughts with me and the members of the City Council. It is certainly inspiring to know so many of our citizens care so deeply about the future of our community. With your strong input, we have formulated a proposal that has strong and unanimous support of the City Council and me. This proposal will be on the ballot in November and will be known as Proposition P.

Proposition P provides for a sales tax in the amount of one-half of one cent for the purpose of providing funding for local parks. All of the money collected by this sales tax would be used exclusively for Parks and Recreation programs in the City of Chesterfield. One-half of the money collected would be used for ongoing operation and maintenance of the parks system because, unlike so many other cities, Chesterfield has no dedicated funding source for these programs and facilities. The other one-half of the money collected would be used to improve existing facilities as well as to acquire targeted greenspace in the neighborhoods. Improvements to existing facilities will include the construction of additional baseball, soccer, football, and multi-purpose fields at the Chesterfield Valley Athletic Complex (CVAC), improvements to the swimming pool at Central City Park, and the completion of the trail and sidewalk system throughout the City.

Providing positive recreational opportunities for all ages and abilities has been a priority since the City was founded in 1988. We now have more than 2,000 children participating in our community baseball and soccer programs, but we do not have the fields to sufficiently accommodate the games and the practice times which they require, which frustrates the players, their parents, the coordinators, and the coaches who volunteer so much of their time to these important community programs. A recent comprehensive survey showed that the people of Chesterfield support the construction of the long planned trail and sidewalk system, but we have not had the financial resources to accomplish this important addition to our community. That same survey also showed that people would like their City to look for opportunities to preserve remaining greenspace for use as neighborhood parks; but, again, your City has not had the financial resources to pursue these goals. Proposition P would provide many of the resources necessary to pursue and achieve these goals.

Proposition P is a quality of life issue that is worthy of your careful consideration.

The logical question to ask is, "Why doesn't the City have the money to do these things?" People see all of the development around town and naturally assume that means additional tax money for the City. In fact, your City government does not benefit financially from development the way many people naturally assume. Chesterfield is required by State law to be a "Pool City" with regard to sales taxes, which means that the general revenue sales taxes paid on purchases in Chesterfield go into the St. Louis County Sales Tax Pool, which is divided among the Pool Cities on the basis of population. Your City government does not benefit financially from the general revenue sales tax from the retail sales in Chesterfield any more than the other cities in the Sales Tax Pool. Consequently, even though retail sales in Chesterfield have been very strong, the revenue that Chesterfield receives through the general revenue sales tax has been essentially flat over the past three years, which has severely impacted the City budget. By contrast, all of the money collected by Proposition P would be used exclusively for parks and recreation programs in the City of Chesterfield. Finally, although we all pay substantial real property taxes, less than one percent (1%) of our real property taxes goes to City government, and the portion that does is dedicated to a bond issue from the 1990s and cannot be used for any other purpose. Many people are stunned to hear that Chesterfield, unlike so many other cities, does not have a general revenue property tax to support its operations.

I admit plainly that of all the things I have accomplished and all the things I still hope to accomplish as your Mayor, asking you to pay more of your money for your City operations was something I frankly hoped would be unnecessary. But given the financial constraints, you should realize that your City simply will not be able to maintain its current level of services across the entire spectrum of our operations if the voters do not approve this additional funding source. This year, as has been true the past two years, we are using money from Fund Reserves to maintain service levels to you, which means expenses are currently exceeding revenues. Given the high level of the Fund Reserves (which is about 60% of annual expenditures), I could not justify reducing service levels at this time. However, using Fund Reserves is not a long-term solution. The portion of Proposition P which would fund the ongoing operation and maintenance of the Parks system would alone provide enough revenue to stop the drain on Fund Reserves, while the portion dedicated to improving existing parks and purchasing additional greenspace would enhance the Parks system and increase the number of people of all ages and abilities to participate in and enjoy these programs and facilities.

If Proposition P does not pass in November, your City will not be able to continue its current levels of service and all aspects of our operations will be impacted. Before the City Council and I are forced to reduce service levels to you, however, I feel it is extremely important for you to have the opportunity to decide what type of government you want your city to have, what type of services you want it to deliver, and what type of community you want Chesterfield to be. This is the reason why so many of your fellow citizens as well as your City Council and I have worked diligently over the past year to formulate a proposal on which there is nearly unparalleled consensus and support.

If you have any questions or comments about this or anything else happening around town, I will, as always, be glad to hear from you.

Distinguished Budget Award Presentation

The Government Finance Officers Association of the United States and Canada (GFOA) has awarded the Distinguished Budget Presentation Award to the City of Chesterfield for its 2004 annual budget. The Distinguished Budget Presentation Award is the highest form of recognition in governmental budgeting. Its attainment represents a significant achievement by management and elected officials of the City of Chesterfield. This award is the fourteenth consecutive Distinguished Budget Presentation Award for the City.

In order to receive this award, the City had to submit its budget documents for review by a panel of independent budget experts. Using extensive criteria, the reviewers evaluate the effectiveness of the City's budget as a:

- A policy document
- A financial plan
- An operations guide
- A communications device

Award-winning documents must be rated "proficient" in all four categories.

Community Emergency Response Teams (CERT)

Following a major disaster, first responders who provide fire and medical services may not be able to meet the demand for emergency services for the first 72 hours of the disaster. Serious problems such as communication failures, road blockages and significant numbers of injured victims may prevent people from accessing those emergency services they have come to expect at a moment's notice. People may have to rely on each other for help in order to meet their immediate life saving and life sustaining needs.

It has been proven many times that under disaster conditions, family members, fellow employees, and neighbors will spontaneously try to help each other. This was the case following the Mexico City earthquake where untrained, spontaneous volunteers saved 800 people. Sadly to say, over 100 untrained volunteers lost their lives while attempting to save others. This is a high price to pay and is preventable through training.

Starting Sept. 22, the Chesterfield Police Department and Monarch Fire Protection District will co-host another 24-hour Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) training program.

The CERT program provides an effective first-responder capability with the aid of citizen involvement. Acting as individuals or in teams during a disaster, trained CERT volunteers can fan out within a particular neighborhood or business complex extinguishing small fires, performing light search and rescue and rendering basic first aid for disaster victims.

This is the sixth CERT training session in Chesterfield. The training will be held on Wednesday evenings 6 p.m.-10 p.m., Sept. 22 – Oct. 27. For further details or registration, contact Police Capt. Graham Burnley at (636)537-3000 or gburnley@chesterfield.mo.us. Information is also available on the City's Web Site.

VIPS

Volunteers in Policing

The Chesterfield Police are looking for additional people to staff the VIPS ("Volunteers in Policing") program. This is an opportunity to be a law enforcement volunteer and a chance to give something back to the community.

VIPS is part of a national network of citizen volunteer organizations.

As a volunteer, you can assist the Police in preparing and protecting the community against crime, terrorism and disasters. VIPS' activities will not place volunteers in inappropriate enforcement or dangerous situations.

As a volunteer, you can assist the Police by helping with crime prevention, public safety programs, children's programs, staffing exhibits and numerous other community related programs

Any adult, 21 years or older, with no serious arrests or convictions, may apply. Residents of Chesterfield will be given first consideration. For a VIPS application, contact the Chesterfield Police Department at (636) 537-3000 or at City Hall.

Police Department Hosts Law Enforcement Day

The Chesterfield Police Department will host the annual "Law Enforcement Day" at the Westfield Shoppingtown-Chesterfield, from 10 a.m.-3 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 16. The event will feature displays and vehicles from regional, local, state and federal law enforcement agencies.

Street Sweeping

The Public Works Department hires an outside contractor to sweep each City maintained street twice a year. The sweeping takes place, once in spring, immediately after the threat of snow has passed, and again in the fall.

Street sweeping is not intended to pick up leaves and must go around the large piles of leaves that residents have blown or raked into the street. The waste hauler will pick up residential leaves for a minimal charge, if the leaves are bagged and placed at the curb on the designated day.

called in several times throughout the year to address debris and sand left after street repairs have been performed by the Public Works crews. Clean up after the larger street repair projects, which are performed by outside contractors, is the responsibility of the contractors after the projects are completed.

Street sweeping is performed primarily to address the normal accumulation of debris that end up in the curb line of our streets. Having the streets swept twice a year is sufficient to address that accumulation. The City recognizes the pride taken by the residents, in maintaining their property. This maintenance helps to limit the accumulation of street debris.
